Ok, thanks. That is normal. The website is reserved but not operational. We hope to have it operational with at least basic functionality within the 1st half of 2018.

When trying to get to what website?

Mailchimp, or venicebeachbid.com, or something else, like a redirect from Mailchimp?

Sorry to ask these followups...but it's nearly impossible to troubleshoot without getting really specific info (since I do not experience any issues on my devices.)

If it's easier, send me a screenshot or a photo of the error screen. TY for helping. We want everything to work.

Rita:

I have (just two) reports of the link not working, but I think people are entering it incorrectly.

I've rechecked the link I've emailed, made sure it was correct on our latest mailing, and even typed it in manually....on two different devices, using two different browsers. All attempts work for me.

Would you be so kind as to try it and let me know if you have any issues?
